

Happiness at School™ One Day Comedy Funshop!

Introduce grade 7-12 students to the exciting world of stand-up comedy and how it can promote well-being and mental health.

The Comedy Funshop introduces specific components from the very successful Happiness at School™ project and condenses them into one day of non-stop laughter. Think of it as a field trip inside the classroom; half the price, quadruple the fun!

Here's how it works:

Professional comedians Marc Hallworth, Kyle Woolven and Trevor Burnett spend an entire day with the class, taking students through a jam-packed course on the positive outcomes of writing and performing stand-up comedy.

“Essentially, the classroom is transformed into a writer's room, a comedy club, and an open and judgment-free learning space, all in one day.”

Introduction: Comedians perform stand-up sets for the students.

1-minute Jokes: Students perform a joke that was written by someone else.

Joke Jam: The classroom is transformed into a writer's room.

2-minute Jokes: Students write their own two-minute sets, with help from the comedians.

Performance: The classroom is transformed into a comedy club.

Contact Sue Stephenson

Tel 647 400 2801

www.happiness-at-school.ca

Happiness at School™

A Division of Sue Stephenson Productions Inc.
Using comedy to promote literacy, well-being & mental health

