There are three models described below from which to choose:

- the Complete Model,
- the One Day Funshop
- the Summer Comedy One Week Day Camp and
- the Teacher-Facilitated Model

Also included is the Individual Certification Model.

A) Happiness at School™ Complete Model

This direct-to-student model involves stand-up comedians collaborating as “visiting artists” and an outside facilitator over nine contact points in the project. The classroom teacher plays an organizer and observer role in the classroom but is not an active participant during the contact points. Teachers have a connecting role to play between the contact points to keep the project moving.

The fee dependent on the number of classes (up to a maximum of 3):

| Number of Classes | One Comedian |                  | Two Comedians (recommended) |                  |
|-------------------|--------------|------------------|-----------------------------|------------------|
|                   | New School   | Repeating School | New School                  | Repeating School |
| One class         | $1400       | $1200           | $2000                      | $1800           |
| Two classes       | $1700       | $1500           | $2500                      | $2300           |
| Three classes     | $2000       | $1800           | $3000                      | $2800           |

- In addition to the set program costs, the comedians and facilitator would negotiate a travel allowance.
- Schools are also required to print copies of the consumable Student Playbook for each student (digital copy provided free of charge) or purchase copies at a price of $3.00 each (shipping extra).
- Each teacher involved in the program will also receive a copy of the book Kidding Around: connecting kids to happiness, laughter and humour, by Sue Stephenson.

B) Happiness at School™ One Day Funshop Model

This model is designed with smaller schools in mind and schools who cannot commit the time to the Complete Model.

The One Day Comedy Funshop introduces specific components and skills from the Happiness at School™ Complete Model condensed into one day. Think of it as a field trip inside the classroom involving stand-up comedians collaborating as “visiting artists” who spend an entire day with the class, taking students through a jam-packed course on the positive outcomes of writing and performing stand-up comedy. Essentially, the classroom is transformed into a writer’s room, a comedy club, and an open and judgment-free learning space, all in one day.

| One Comedian | Two Comedians (recommended) |
|--------------|-----------------------------|
| $500        | $1000                      |

- Comedian(s) interact with one class per day
- This fee includes printed copies of the Student Playbook( condensed) for each student in the class, or a copyrighted digital copy to print on site, and a copy of the book Kidding Around: connecting kids to happiness, laughter and humour, by Sue Stephenson.

C) Happiness at School™ Summer Day Camp

Plans are underway for a series of Summer Comedy Day Camp in various locations starting in July and August 2018. These camps will run from 9:00 - 1:00 each day, for one week at a time.

Pricing per participant will be available in January 2018.

We are open to hearing from schools that would like to be a host site.

C) Happiness at School™ Teacher-Facilitated Model

In this professional learning model, stand-up comedians, as “visiting artists”, collaborate with classroom teachers over six contact points with all students in their classroom(s) and/or group meetings.

Teachers are prepared through an online, self-paced eCourse (approximately 5 hours) and Facilitator Playbook to gain the knowledge and the activities needed. Upon successful completion, each teacher is certified to deliver the 3 project lessons to their class. This model builds the capacity of the teachers and sustains the project into the future.

The fee is dependent on the number of classes (up to a maximum of 3):

| Number of Classes | One Comedian |                  | Two Comedian (recommended) |                  |
|-------------------|--------------|------------------|----------------------------|------------------|
|                   | New School   | Repeating School | New School                 | Repeating School |
| One class         | $1300       | $900            | $1900                     | $1500           |
| Two classes       | $1500       | $1100           | $2300                     | $1900           |
| Three classes     | $1700       | $1300           | $2700                     | $2300           |

- In addition to the set program costs, the comedians would negotiate a travel allowance.
- Schools are also required to print copies of the Student Playbook for each student (digital copy provided free of charge) or purchase copies at a price of $3.00 each (shipping extra).
- Each teacher involved in the program will also receive a copy of the book Kidding Around: connecting kids to happiness, laughter and humour, by Sue Stephenson.

D) Happiness at School™ Individual Certification Model

This model is designed for individuals who are outside the target market area but want to be trained to deliver the program. Training is delivered through a self-paced, online eCourse to certify an individual as a Happiness at School™ Certified Facilitator (CHF). Coaching would be provided to find and prepare stand-up comedians to collaborate with a school or group.
